Direct Vote On Zone Ordinance Initiative Aim

Direct decision by the voters of Sierra Madre on the location of the sanitarium zone under the proposed zoning ordinance will be secured by means of an initiative election, according to latest reports. A petition now in preparation will be in circulation soon, asking for the submission of the entire ordinance to popular vote.

Signatures of 15 per cent of the voters are required to make the petition valid and mandatory on the city trustees. The latter have the option of adopting the ordinance as submitted or of submitting it to popular vote.

The zone asked for in the petition, it is said, will be that asked for by practically unanimous vote at the mass meeting when the ordinance was first submitted for consideration, namely that portion of the city lying east of the stream of the Little Santa Anita. The protests made at the last mass meeting against the opening up of a strip along the entire length of the city's choicest foothill section was felt to confirm the vote of the previous meeting.

Submission of the initiative ordinance, it is believed, will make a clean cut issue. It is hoped this will avoid the injection of personalities and extraneous issues which are more likely to appear in connection with recall or even referendum proceedings.

The next meeting of the city trustees will take place June 14, when the ordinance will probably come up again and the petition presented.

NEW TAILOR CARRIES LINE OF FINE SUITINGS

P. Zettas, a tailor of 25 years' experience, has opened a new tailoring and cleaning establishment in the Kersting building at 14 West Central avenue. He has refurnished the room and installed a splendid stock of pure woolen suitings. Mr. Zettas has been in business in Eagle Rock the past five years and refers to his many customers there for assurance of the satisfactory quality of his work. He expects to make suits complete in his own shop, guaranteeing satisfaction in workmanship as well as materials. In addition to making new suits, Mr. Zettas will give special attention to remodelling and alterations. He will also carry on a general cleaning, pressing and dyeing business.

CONFUSION OF NAMES CAUSES EMBARRASSMENT

Published reports of the legal difficulties of a man named Henry Marsh seem to have caused some confusion in the minds of persons who believed erroneously they referred to Harry Marsh, the son of Mrs. Mae Marsh of Victoria lane. They did not, in fact, refer to nor concern him in any way, except through the embarrassment caused by the similarity of names.

OUTDOOR GRADUATION PROGRAM IS PLANNED

Committee Arranging for Pleading Event on School Grounds
on June 13

In keeping with the California idea of outdoor events, the committee appointed to cooperate in arranging for the grammar school graduation program has suggested the holding of the exercises outdoors on the school grounds. The class has agreed to the plan and the committee members have secured the cooperation of various parents as well as Principal Reynolds in working out details.

An invitation has been extended to William F. Ewing, principal of Pasadena high school, to present the diplomas to the class. An invitation which was extended to President Shaw of the school board was declined with thanks. He held to the statement made when the committee plan was agreed to that he wished to leave them with absolutely free hands to bring in any outsider who might be desirable.

To make the evening complete, the Woman's club has volunteered to the committee the use of the club house for a party following the exercises. Mrs. Hawxhurst, representing the committee, is arranging for a number of hostesses who shall represent the community at large in the entertainment of the graduating class.

DAILY ICE SERVICE FOR CANYON PARK

W. B. Herrington, local agent for the Pasadena Ice company, announces that the company will maintain daily delivery service throughout the Canyon Park section this summer, beginning at once. Infrequent service in the past and the inability of the regular wagons to cover all that hilly territory has caused much inconvenience to Canyon Park people in the past. Mr. Herrington says the company has provided ample facilities now so that the rapidly increasing population of this section can have the same service as other parts of town, which will be greatly appreciated.

E. H. Gubbins left last week for Chicago and New York, where he will look after business affairs. Mrs. Gubbins left later for Seattle and Vancouver where she will renew old acquaintances. Incidentally she will give several of her popular dramatic-music recitals, her work being well and favorably known throughout the northwest.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Anderson of Alliance, Nebraska, arrived Wednesday and are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. Hall Perry.

HEXAGON SUBSTITUTED FOR TRIANGLE PLAY

Screaming Farce to Be Presented Next Week for Chamber of Commerce Benefit

The best amateur play ever presented in Sierra Madre is the verdict of those who have witnessed rehearsals of "Trust Emily," the Chamber of Commerce play to be given at the Woman's club house next Friday and Saturday, June 8 and 9.

Triangle plays have had their vogue. "Trust Emily" is a hexagonal play, five maids all angrling for the same desirable male. Class distinctions are thrown in the discard even in Merry England and the best maid wins. Mrs. W. R. Morgan plays the title role and Raymond Hedderly is the much sought after gentleman farmer. To mention the others playing prominent parts is to name the entire cast.

All the characters from Sir William Hunter to Stoker, the man of all work, will furnish you with many opportunities to laugh and the glummiest theater-goer in Sierra Madre will not leave without at least a smile. The men folks want to have their suspender and vest buttons tightened before going, and the ladies had best take similar precautions, whatever they are.

Mrs. H. E. Allen, directing the production, has selected an excellent cast and all are carrying out their various parts to perfection under her direction. The complete cast is:

Steers, butler of Sir William Hunter.....James N. Hawks
Emily Parkes, housemaid.....Mrs. W. R. Morgan
Lady Hunter.....Mrs. Charles N. Hawks
Cyril Wakefield.....Charles Hall Perry
Arthur Netherby.....Raymond Hedderly
Sir Wm. Hunter.....Randolph Wood
Miss Gwendolyn Harmony.....Miss Mattie Seeley
Miss Angela Harmony.....Mrs. Victor Hill
(The Harmony Twins)

Mrs. Drelincourt Miss Eleanor Bayne
Cook.....Miss Edith Blumer
Stoker, Man-of-all-work, J. H. Wright
Mrs. Stoker.....Mrs. J. C. Dickson
ACT I. Country Estate of Sir William Hunter; Act II. Country Estate of Arthur Netherby; Act III. Same.

Tickets will be on sale at Hartman's drug store next week, general admission tickets also at office of the Chamber of Commerce.

Miss Fannie Montague Hunt has accepted the work of Sierra Madre correspondent for the society column of the Los Angeles Sunday Times. Hostesses desiring adequate writeups will receive Miss Hunt's best consideration. Telephone Red 9 on or before Wednesday of each week.

MEMORIAL SERVICE HELD BY VETERANS

Impressive Program Is Carried Out
Under Auspices of the American Legion

Dignified and impressive were the Memorial services held on Wednesday morning at the Sierra Madre cemetery. In spite of the falling drizzle which was almost a rain, a large crowd turned out to witness or participate in the ceremonies. George Norris, representing Pasadena Post of the American Legion, was in general charge, and there were present veterans of the Civil War and of the Spanish-American War.

Dean William Carson Shaw pronounced the invocation. Patriotic songs were sung under leadership of Argyle Tully. The brief address by Dr. William A. Tate was thoughtful and impressive. The only martial touch was furnished by the uniformed Boy Scouts with colors and drums under command of Scoutmaster Stovall. They assisted in decorating the graves of the soldiers who have been laid to rest in the cemetery.

EARLY CALIFORNIA HISTORY REVIEWED

New light on the early history of Southern California was given an interested audience in the Masonic hall Tuesday night by Arthur M. Ellis of Los Angeles. Mr. Ellis is a past master of University Lodge and president of the Los Angeles Masonic Library association. He has devoted a great deal of effort to collecting material from original sources, making stereopticon slides from pictures and documents in the Bancroft Library at Berkeley and the Library of Congress as well as in the hands of pioneers. His topic was "The Early History of Masonry in Southern California." His talk dealt largely with the part played by members of the fraternity in establishing the first municipal government, churches, and schools, in Los Angeles and other communities. Following the lecture light refreshments were served and a social hour enjoyed by the members and guests who were present.

Next Tuesday night the June stated meeting will be held.

SUPPER AND PLAY AT CHURCH TONIGHT

Supper and a one-act play will be the principal features of a delightful evening's entertainment given this evening by the ladies of the Aid society in the Congregational church. Supper will be served at 6:30 at 50 cents a plate. The one-act play entitled, "The Rummage Sale," will follow at 8 o'clock. This is said to be exceedingly funny and worth going to see.

ISSUE IS RAISED ON MAJORITY RULE

Sierra Madre, May 29.—Sierra Madre News—

The recent mass meeting clearly proved the necessity of threshing out a problem that has created a breach that threatens harm to the City of Sierra Madre, perhaps more than we fully realize.

We must not permit our sense of the humorous side of these town meetings to blind our eyes to the issue at stake and all it involves and may lead to.

Mr. Knox of the Los Angeles City Planning commission wisely voiced a note of warning when he laid stress on the need of conserving the "community spirit," which of late has been much disturbed.

This spirit must be properly established and maintained before we can progress in the right manner.

Doubtless the main issue at present is the proposed zoning ordinance which must be adjusted on a basis satisfactory to the majority of our citizens.

Since every individual cannot be pleased, in whatever conclusions are arrived at, it obviously follows that the right course to pursue is the one that satisfies the greatest number. It seems to the writer that the main question to answer or adjust is whether the wishes of the majority are to prevail, or the judgment of the men in authority is to dominate.

I do not for a moment question or doubt the honesty of purpose of our Trustees. President Mitchell fearlessly defends his prerogative to think and act as his best judgment dictates, even though such be in direct conflict with the will of the people.

Presumably his associates are actuated by the same motives.

It thus narrows itself down to this: Shall the judgment of the comparative few, or the demands of the many, prevail?

All my life I have labored under the impression that men are elected to office to carry out the wishes of their constituents; it may be that this idea is a mistake and delusion and that perhaps the people are entitled only to whatever those in authority decide is best for them. This may be correct in law, but is it in justice?

Now since we cannot all think alike, probably the only remedy is some compromise measure. This certainly should not be deemed impossible.

Considerable stress was laid at the recent meeting on the influence of El Reposo on the road through the Hastings property. To me the creation of this road is of paramount importance and its consummation should not be unnecessarily jeopardized. If it is only a matter of establishing a westerly limit for the zone that stands in the way, the writer, in the interests of harmony, is disposed to agree to the line of Hermosa avenue as the westerly line even though this line runs directly through the center of my Scenic Point property.

I feel perfectly free to concede this, knowing that my neighbors are all in accord in a determination not to sell land for sanitarium purposes; even to the extent of binding ourselves in a manner that would absolutely safeguard the neighborhood.

Such an arrangement would practically restrict the zone to the section recommended by Mr. Whitnall and demanded by the people.

I offer this suggestion in the hope that it may prove a stepping-stone in the direction of harmony and in the preservation of a community spirit that may develop into the fullest measure of good for the greatest number.

Respectfully,
HENRY T. FENNEL.

MEN'S CLUB SMOKER TOMORROW EVENING

The second "smoker" of the Men's club of the Church of the Ascension will be held in the parish house Saturday evening, June 2. In view of the splendid time afforded by the first meeting of a month ago, it is expected there will be a large attendance and an even better time.

Many Hours Are Lost In a Month By Commuters

The following statement was prepared by a Sierra Madre commuter who is entirely trustworthy and accurate. The subject is so important and the condition so serious as to demand the careful consideration of all citizens as well as railroad officials:

The following schedule of actual train service between Los Angeles and Sierra Madre for an average month of 26 working days has been compiled by a commuter forced to leave his home in Sierra Madre two years ago on account of the Pacific Electric's dilatory service.

He returned about a month ago to have another trial at living in Sierra Madre. A glance at the following figures will show how doubtful, if not impossible, this will be.

Fellow commuters, can nothing be done to remedy this unnecessary evil? Must we be driven from our homes, and the beautiful and healthful suburbs of Los Angeles starved and retarded by a soulless corporation's indifference to our welfare?

JUNIOR ORCHESTRA TO GIVE CONCERT SOON

Juvenile Performers Will Make First Appearance for P. T. A. Benefit

On Saturday evening, June 23, the Sierra Madre Junior orchestra will make its initial bow to the public in a concert at the Woman's Club house. The existence of this organization has been made possible through the efforts of Mrs. Robert Mitchell and Mrs. S. M. Karicofe, and is under the inspiring supervision of Miss Mary Ludlow, assistant supervisor of orchestras in the Los Angeles elementary schools. It consists of some twenty-five little musicians ranging in age from six to thirteen years. They have been working very faithfully during the past six months, and the concert given will prove a surprise and delight to the people of Sierra Madre.

The concert will be under the auspices of the Parent-Teachers association, and the proceeds will be used to defray the expense of keeping the playgrounds of the public school open during the summer under competent supervision.

The children of the orchestra are delighted to know that their services can be of value to the public welfare of the community, and it is expected that the concert will tax the capacity of the club house.

The orchestra includes fourteen violins, two flutes, one clarinet, one trumpet, one viola, together with bells, drums and piano. Supplementing the program of the orchestra there will be several solos by gifted children of Los Angeles, who have been trained under the supervision of Miss Ludlow.

RUBBING ALCOHOL BOTTLES EXPLODE IN WINDOW

Don't drink rubbing alcohol in hot weather. You may be able to do it in cold weather, but if it is hot you may suffer the same fate as did the display window of Hartman's drug store.

One day recently before the awning was lowered the sun shone into the window and caused several bottles on display there to explode. The stuff ate the varnish off the floor and window, giving a faint hint of what it might do to the inside of the human anatomy, even if the hot weather did not cause it to explode there.

GOOSEBERRY SYRUP AT SODA FOUNTAIN

Charlie Chantry has a soda fountain concoction testing out and may decide to put it on the market. Recently he brought to Mr. Nolte at Mt. Wilson Tavern a sample of wild gooseberry syrup. It has the real tang of the wild berry—without the stickers which prevent it being tempting as fruit. It mixes well with carbonated water and tastes like more. Mr. Chantry gets the berries from Frank Volvin, the hermit of the Big Santa Anita, and says there would be no difficulty in securing them in marketable quantity.

MT. WILSON TAVERN SERVING GOOD FOOD

Patrons who have visited Mt. Wilson Tavern at the end of the car line, since Mr. and Mrs. Nolte have begun serving lunches, have found there a variety of food well prepared and agreeably served. They also operate a delicatessen service which many people are finding a great convenience. Many articles of food cannot be conveniently prepared for a small number of people and it is a real convenience to be able to secure them already to take home and serve.

"What's in a Name?" By MILDRED MARSHALL

Facts about your name; its history; meaning; whence it was derived; significance; your lucky day and lucky jewel

ANGELA

ANGEL-LIKE is the translation of Angela, from the Greek angelos, meaning messenger, which the Romans interpreted as "heavenly messenger" and hence "angel." Angelos first became proper in the Byzantine empire. It is believed to have begun as an epithet since it comes to light in Konstantinos Angelos, a young man of noble family whose beauty caused him to be the choice of the Princess Theodora Komnena in 1100. Because of the beauty of the family, Angelos became its surname.

The misdirected crusade of the Venetians brought it to Greece and a monastic saint, who preached at Palermo and was afterward murdered by a wicked count whose evil deeds he had rebuked, was one of the first to bear the name. The Carmelites claimed St. Angelo as a saint of their order and the name, in both its masculine and feminine forms, caught the fancy of Italy.

It became popular in the other nations, due perhaps to its inseparable associations with beauty, and also to the fashion of complimenting women as angels. The derivative Angelica is noted in romance as the faithful lady for whose sake Orlando lost his heart and senses. But she was a gratuitous invention of Bolardo and Aristo, for Spanish ballads and earlier Italian poets make him the faithful husband of Alda. However, Angelica obtained that character for beauty which has made the name popular through the centuries. It has been a particular favorite with authors through all ages of literature, particularly in mid-Victorian fiction, where its heritage of fragile, virtuous beauty fitted it exceptionally for the name of its heroines. Angela, from time immemorial, has been applied to the fluffy, youthful, unsophisticated type with curly hair and wide innocent blue eyes.

The French call her Angeliqne and Angeline. England has evolved the derivative Angelot. Angiola, Angioletta and Angiolota are the Italian forms. The Teutonic versions are Engel and Engelchen. Ancela is Polish and Anjela and Anjelina have been evolved in Bohemian.

It is fitting that the pure beauty of Angela should have the pearl as her talismanic jewel. It assures her charm and purity and popularity. Should she dream of pearls, she will find new faithful friends. Monday is her lucky day, when she wears a pearl, and 7 her lucky number.

The editor of The News has received from Mr. William M. Krebs, who visited recently with his son, Dr. L. L. Krebs, a copy of the program booklet for the opening recital of the Krebs Memorial organ installed recently in the First Baptist church of Cedar Rapids, Iowa. The organ was made possible by the gifts of the children and grandchildren of Theophilus and Susanna Krebs, who were for many years faithful members of the church. Its installation was the result of a movement begun in June, 1922, by Mr. William M. Krebs. Mr. Marshall Bidwell, the organist, was assisted by Miss Blanche Krebs, soprano. The organ is constructed by the Henry Piller's Sons and has two manuals and pedals. Compass of manuals 61 notes. Compass of pedals 32 notes.

MIXED WIVES

Harper's Weekly: In the early part of the last century there lived in an old New England town a Mr. Church, who in the course of his earthly life was bereft of four wives, all of whom were buried in the same lot. In his old age it became necessary to remove the remains to a new cemetery. This he undertook himself, but in the process the bones became hopelessly mixed. His "New England conscience" would not allow him, under the painful circumstances, to use the original headstones, so he procured new ones, one of which bore the following inscription:

"Here lies Hannah Church and probably a portion of Emily."

Another:
"Sacred to the memory of Emily Church, who seems to be mixed with Matilda."

Then followed these lines:
"Stranger pause and drop a tear,
For Emily Church lies buried here,
Mixed in some perplexing manner
With Mary, Matilda and probably Hannah."

TOMORROW

Never mind about tomorrow—
It always is today;
Yesterday has vanished,

The moment to defend.
Just now is without beginning;
Just now can never end.

Sunshine & Showers

by
DE WITT T. JONES

It seems that about the only thing King Tut needed to make him great was a good publicity man. A man who waits 3,000 years to come before the public eye might be said to be hiding his light under a bushel.

To us, the stupendous developments in industry and commerce are not half so astounding as the fact that only a few short years ago the man who rides around in a big twin six was playing leapfrog and hooking watermelons just like other freckle-faced boys.

The summer sun is beating down; All nature seems to show it; Dead are the gardens of the town, But what can kill a poet?
—Whit Greenleaf.

A few years ago if a song had been named "Three o'Clock in the Morning" one would have expected to hear the crow of a rooster somewhere in the tune. The chickens referred to in the popular song, however, do not appear to be the crowing kind.

"Them Tut clothes are all right," remarked Eloise Entree, well known at many of the film employment agencies. "If you choose the type that fits you." "Now I can wear a get up with obelisque lines while the leading lady of that last picture I was in would need a dress made so it would remind you of the pyramids. Some women remind you of a keg of beer trying to look like a champagne bottle."

"Klan Tool of Ford," says a headline. Have you a little K. K. K. under the back seat of your lizzie?

Whenever we hear any one say that religion and business don't mix, we conclude that the type of business referred to is about on the same plane as the speaker's religious convictions.

Often we wonder where the boosters of our town really are. We see a man waving a flag with the words "Sierra Madre" written in large plain letters. He is yelling at the top of his voice, "Ain't we got a fine town though." We stop and ask him if he thinks we could make a certain kind of business pay in his town. A cloud comes over his face, he shakes his head. "It can't be done," he says, and returns to his waving and yelling. A little later we meet a gloomy looking man who gives the appearance of having lost his best coon dog. "What kind of a town is this?" we inquire. "Rotten," he replies. We ask his opinion regarding the business chances in his community. To our surprise we are informed that in his opinion it will pay, and if we care to undertake it he will provide us with a building in which to carry on our operations. He is never enthusiastic, verbally, but is willing to spend his money. We wonder who the real boosters are.

Gloom spreaders are pointing out the fact that, while several thousand visitors are coming to California to spend their summers, about as many thousand Californians are going east to spend their summers. The difference is that we are not afraid of a Californian finding any place in the east so pleasing that he would care to remain while we have hopes of inducing some of our visitors to become permanent residents. Even if a Californian would like to remain in the east, it is probable that he would have done so much talking about the wonders of California before he learned to care for the east that he would have to return to California to save his reputation.

California seems to have a mania for building new towns. Every day or two, we hear of some new town that has sprung into existence. Often we shake our heads and wonder what the people who are behind the project are thinking about, but after all, of the several hundred towns in the vicinity of Los Angeles, we do not know of a single one that has not progressed because another town sprang up near by, neither do we know of any town site, projected within the last two or three years that has failed to make good. Still we shake our heads and wonder.

It is quite an achievement for a criminal to become so endeared to the public as to be known by her first name. And again it is with pride that we mention Madeline or Clara, as if they were old friends, with whom no formality is needed.

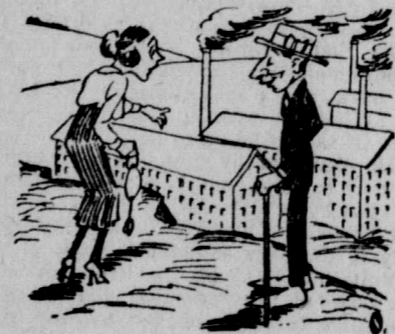

According to reports from the roaring streams, one can catch quite a few trout now, if his line don't get tangled around a dozen or two others that are casting in the same, aforesaid, roaring stream.

A SACRIFICE TO LOVE

"Though you always said you disliked him, you married him after all."
"Yes; I altered my opinion in the end."

THE COMPANY THEY KEEP

"Why do these iron masters become financial hogs?"
"Long association with pig-iron, I guess."

MELTING SNOW PUTS DAMPER ON FISHING

Melting snow in the high Sierras has clouded up Southern California streams so that fly fishing has not improved any in the past two weeks.
The fish are biting eagerly at bait in all of the streams, and as soon as the water becomes clear, fly fishing is bound to pick up.

This is the word brought by "Slim" Noxon, one of the local fishermen who has lately returned from a week-end in the mountains.

Large barracuda are being taken in the Catalina channel, and as far south as Newport. A party on the yacht Seminole made a heavy catch last Sunday morning in the South. All of the barracuda taken lately have been of unusual size, and have fought viciously.

Fishing on the piers and in the surf will soon pick up, if local fishermen read the signs aright. Spotfin and carbina are being taken at present.

Wisdom's Whispers.

It is said that if Noah's ark had had to be built by a company, they would not have laid the keel yet; and it may be so. What is many men's business is nobody's business. The greatest things are accomplished by individual men.—Spurgeon.

"The Mate's Watch."

From the report of a shipping case:
"The steamer proceeded on her way,
until 7 or rather later, when a noise was heard as of a heavy body like an anchor or a chain being dragged along the deck from the funnel aft.
It was the mate's watch."

DOVE OF PEACE HAS NO BRIDGE TO CROSS

War clouds are gathering at Monrovia and Arcadia.

A bridge, or rather the lack of a bridge, across the Huntington wash between the two cities is responsible for the asserted break between the two cities.

"Arcadia is supposed to erect a modern bridge across this wash, but has failed to do so; now we ask that Arcadia be compelled to construct the bridge, as that city always gets what is coming to it," is an extract from a fiery missive from Monrovia to the county supervisors.

The supervisors today are attempting to lure the dove of peace into visiting the two cities.

Hope Leads Onward.

That the spirit of man should enverify, is quite natural. Human life could not have the scope, the depth and progress it has, were this otherwise.—Matthew Arnold

crude makes a better
oil

Zerolene oils are made from selected Western Naph-thenic Crude, which repeated tests have shown to produce an oil having greater "crawling" qualities, greater adhesiveness, and greater stability than oils made from other crudes. Hence the car lubricated with Zerolene will use about 5% less gasoline because it is continuously better lubricated.

Moreover, Zerolene produces less carbon than any other oils we have tested or been able to produce. Cars lubricated with Zerolene run from 25% to 50% farther before valve-cleaning and carbon-removing operations are necessary.

Insist on Zerolene—even if it does cost less.

SIERRA MADRE
WOMAN'S CLUB

(Correspondence)

The musical treat given at the Monday meeting of the Woman's club had been awaited with keen interest by the members and their friends, and the realization even exceeded expectations. Mr. Oscar Rasbach gave the following very interesting program:

- (a) Allemande d'Albert
- (b) Gavotte Gluck
- (c) Menuett Mozart
- (a) Kammer-Ostrow.....Rubinstein
- (b) May-Night Palmgren
- (c) Little Bird Grieg
- (a) Valse Chopin
- (b) Old Vienna Godowsky
- (c) Scherzo Rasbach

In technique, expression and interpretation Mr. Rasbach is an artist of great ability. The entire recital, particularly the Rubinstein Kammeroi-Ostrow, and the final Scherzo, his own prize composition, will long remain in the charts of his audience as features of one of the most delightful afternoons in the history of the club, and one of which Sierra Madre may justly be proud.

Business Meeting

At the business meeting preceding the recital, the by-laws, which had been revised by Mrs. J. A. Osgood, president emeritus and parliamentarian, and her committee, were presented and accepted. A discussion was held of the advisability of changing the meeting day either to the first and third Wednesdays or the second and fourth Wednesdays. The decision was postponed until the next meeting.

Joint Luncheon

Inasmuch as the American Legion club musicians are unable to be in Sierra Madre on the evening of June 11, arrangements are being made with Miss Elizabeth Steinberger's cooperation, to hold the luncheon on June 11 at 12 o'clock, the proceeds of which will be given to the veteran's club. This will be the most important luncheon of the season. The Chamber of Commerce and the Men's Community club are invited to join in the effort to swell the fund Mrs. Weisner is so interested in presenting, by getting out a crowd.

Gallery Day

Members of the Art section and friends numbering twenty had a very delightful Gallery Day picnic Tuesday, May 29. Miss Ella Shepard Bush, art chairman, conducted the party to the fourth exhibition of Painters and Sculptors of Southern California, in the museum at Exposition park, where 76 paintings, seven miniatures and 23 pieces of sculpture were catalogued. Among the most interesting were the "Self Portrait" of Mabel Alvarez, "The Mirage" by Max Wiesner, a Los Angeles artist of renown, and "Again the Meadow Lark" by Carl Jens. Among those exhibiting sculpture were Maud Daggett of Pasadena, who has exhibited at Paris and has many little statues in choice local gardens, and Julia Bracken Wendt with her "Lincoln."

The trip also included a visit to the Stendahl galleries at the Ambassador where there were on view paintings by Joseph Kleitsch, Armin Hausler (whose method of attack is said by critics to be most original, forceful and unique in point of view) and Robert Vannok. The names of Mr.
and Mrs. Vannok are generally given together because Mrs. Vannok was Bessie Potter, sculptress, and celebrated for her figurines.

The appreciation of the ladies was greatly enhanced by the comprehensive explanations given by Miss Bush,
a recognized authority on art subjects
as well as a miniature painter of rare ability. "The High Window," one of her productions, exhibited for the first time, was among the miniature group and was viewed by the club members with a great deal of possessive pride.

ARGENTINE COMPETITION

The extent of the Argentine competition with the American cattle grower may explain in part the reason for the heavy decline in beef exports as noted in the March returns of exports while the exports of hog products, in which there is little competition, continues so large.

Argentina's exportations of beef switched from 5,243,000 quarters during 1921, of which 1,743,000 were chilled, to 5,105,000 quarters, during 1922, of which 3,137,000 quarters were chilled, thus indicating, says De-Ricques of Denver, possibly a very big decline in the frozen beef industry for South America. "As I have stated before, it is this ability of Argentina to deliver chilled meat in Europe, instead of frozen meat, that has given Australia such a severe blow; for Australia is too far away to deliver anything but the frozen product."

As good cows are selling in Argentina as low as $10 and beef steers for slaughter around $35, the nature of the competition, and also the more favored position of the American producer of beef, are apparent in spite of heavy imports of beef and veal by ourselves from both Canada and Argentina.

Yet with all these beef imports (37 million lbs. in 1922) the per capita consumption of beef here was only 61.4 lbs. compared with 79.2 in 1900—a decrease which would account for lack of domestic demand for about 1,860 million pounds of meat, measured on the per capita basis of 1900.
We seem to need a campaign of "eat more meat" as well as "eat more wheat" and "eat more raisins" or "more almonds." But what, if nature rebels, can we do about it—pool all those products and let Jewett and Peteet play with them?

WORTH TRYING

Put your hammer in the locker;
With your hand-axe do likewise;
Anyone can be a knocker,
Anyone can criticize.
Cultivate the building habit,
Though it hurts your face to smile;
At the start it may go awkward,
But you'll get it after while.
—St. Johns, Que.

A WISE OLD OWL

"A wise old owl lived in an oak
The more he saw, the less he spoke;
The less he spoke, the more he heard
O, make me like that wise old bird."

We can't be like that owl, I fear
Because we shoot off all we hear,
And brag about the things we'd do
If we were in some other's shoe,
Instead of doing what we could
And 'tending to the things we should.

Culling, Lighting and Feeding

Practical experience accruing during the last half dozen years emphasizes the fact that, in order to reap the greatest profit from poultry culture there must be systematic culling, which detail first came into greater prominence in a desultory way, developing into fixed practice. If, indeed, supplementary factors are utilized, culling will ever remain as one of the primary steps taken, and this not spasmodically, or, indeed, periodically. The watchful eye of the flockmaster will be on the qui vive as he passes through his yards, not only to size up the flock, but as a detective, to note the listless carriage, the dull eye, the withering comb, the bedraggled appearance of any bird, if there be such in the flock.

In the heyday of Hoganizing, after it had been proved there was much virtue in the system, large numbers of poultry keepers adopted the plan and with profit. The next step was trapnesting, which some time since proved infallible in the matter of selection, and is continually growing in popularity. So many of the prominent poultrymen of the Santa Cruz district have adopted this feature of the business that a trapnest association has been formed, attended with satisfying results.

Some time since it was firmly impressed upon the minds of the progressives that it was poor policy—management, if you will—to save no hens but those of proved high-laying ability. The profits of poultry culture are greatly lessened all over the land by feeding and otherwise caring for drones in the flock; boarders they are that live "on the fat of the land" and simply loaf around. It seems a difficult matter to impress on the minds of too large a number of poultrymen the fact that it costs no more for the upkeep of first class hens than it does for lower grade fowls.

The number of poultrymen who, during the longest nights of the year, use artificial lights in the endeavor to accelerate egg production during the period when eggs command highest price is increasing year by year. There was a time when this action was thought to be naught but an idle notion by unprogressives, but its utility has been clearly demonstrated. The use of this factor is ever gaining in popularity, for it has in many ways proved to be advantageous. Not that the annual output of eggs for hens so treated has, as a rule, been enlarged, but an increased output accrues at a very opportune time.

But the profit accruing from this practice is conditional, for experience, not very long in obtaining, has brought to the front the fact that while for the commercial egg farmer artificial lights in season will be found profit producing, it is otherwise when the eggs are used in the breeding pen. The undue stimulus, the forcing of egg production, lessens the vitality of the germ, depriving the resultant chick of vigor necessary for greatest development.

This has been proved in numberless cases. If there are any breeders who doubt the assertion they will be fully convinced if the practice is continued for an indefinite time.

Another factor is the matter of feeding. Not every poultryman is satisfied with the system he has adopted. There are always some of an inquiring mind, seeking for accurate information, especially when there is a falling off in production. It is well to investigate. The plan your neighbor has adopted may not prove successful in your case. You may obtain a fund of useful knowledge from bulletins gratuitously distributed by the agricultural experimental stations of this or that state, formulated by experienced, up-to-date specialists. But bear in mind that "a rolling stone gathers no moss." If you are doing well under present treatment do not get in the habit of changing from this to that.

And right here it may be said that simple rations have proved as good as many a complex one. To be sure, hens, like humans, relish variety. To them it may be that "variety is the spice of life," but it cannot truthfully be said that the more ingredients used in the composition of mash, dry or moist, the larger will be the egg production. Wheat, corn and oats (or barley), supplemented by beef scrap or fish meal, serve a good purpose, often as well as more costly rations. But let everyone be fully convinced in his own mind.

New Jersey is noted far and near for the large number of White Leghorns kept for egg production, but the statisticians inform us that state produces less than one per cent of the entire output of this country. Of the fifty million cases of eggs sold in the United States less than 450,000 were produced in New Jersey. Both California and New York produce almost five times as many eggs. The output of this state is continually on the increase.

DR. POWER HONORED BY COLLEGE "FRAT"

The director of the Pasadena Glen School for Boys, Dr. Ralph L. Power, left for the University of Arizona on Monday to install the 33rd chapter of the Alpha Kappa Psi fraternity in that institution. Notification of his election as installing officer was received by telegram from New York a week ago when Dr. Power was toastmaster at the Founders Day banquet of the alumni association of Southern California at the University club. President von Kleinsmid of the University of Southern California commended favorably the new chapter at Arizona where he was president for nearly ten years.

OLD FASHIONED DANCES AND GARMENTS LOVELY

With many rare old costumes, some of them from 100 to 200 years old, the participants in the old fashioned dances at the Parish house last Friday night created an atmosphere of long, long ago. The party was given under auspices of the choir of the Church of the Ascension and attracted a large crowd who thoroughly enjoyed the evening. Mrs. H. I. Hawhurst was general chairman, and the program was in charge of Mrs. Georgia Skinner Jacques.

Prizes for the best costumes were awarded as follows: First: Mrs. Martha Rust; second, Mrs. Elmer Green; honorable mention, Mrs. George A. Anderson, Mrs. H. Gwyn, Mrs. Genevieve Nuetzel, Mrs. John Borradaile, Mrs. C. H. Perry, Mrs. Stella Dennison, Miss Stemmerman, Miss Logier, Miss Ferris, Miss Jackson. Gentlemen: First, Harold Hart; second, Col. John Borradaile.

The costumes were all genuine and for the most part family heirlooms. Not one was "stage" property.

Many of the old dances were enjoyed, including a charming minuet by a group of young people in costume, an impromptu minuet by Mrs. A. W. Gibson and Mr. Harold Hart. The former set a strenuous pace for her younger partner who, however, performed his part admirably. Other delightful features were a solo dance by Miss Marian Smithson of Los Angeles, and songs by Miss Jackson of Pasadena, accompanied by Harold Hart on the piano accordion, and by Mrs. Randolph Wood. The crowd enjoyed a period of community singing under the leadership of Mrs. Fred Griebel. Coffee and doughnuts were served and the company enjoyed more modern dancing to a late hour, music being furnished by Mr. Randolph Wood, Miss Frances Webster and Mr. Harold Hart.

NEW PARK BOARD BEGINS TO WORK

Under the terms of the new City ordinance providing for appointment of a Board of Park Commissioners and a Superintendent, the city trustees have appointed as the first park commission Captain Clarence H. Barker, chairman, Major C. S. Floyd and Harold F. Roberts. Street Superintendent A. M. Udell is appointed superintendent.

The park commission is a purely advisory body, serving without pay. They have power to recommend plans to the city trustees, and the superintendent is required to consult with them in the improvement and management of the park. All expenditures of money must in each instance be authorized by the city trustees.

The members of the park commission have already made trips to neighboring towns to investigate methods of park planning and management. Superintendent Udell has also taken steps to prevent drouth damage to the growing trees and shrubs on the new park property at Central and Hermosa pending final decision as to what disposition shall be made of them in the park development.

PETITION TO JOIN PASADENA DISTRICT

Petitions apparently originating in Sierra Madre Villa section and asking that the Sierra Madre school district be annexed to the Pasadena district have been in circulation here this week. Advantages promised under the proposed plan are those of junior high school facilities, but it is not quite clear how this improvement is to be paid for. Whether or not the petition is an outgrowth of the recent disagreements over local school matters does not yet appear. The merits of the proposition will doubtless be threshed out in due time.

Wolverine Fur Prized.

The natives of the North wear the furs that stand the hardest wear, and wolverine is the most prized fur among Eskimos, as they trim their parka hoods with it on account of the hairs shedding water, or rather the moisture of respiration.

Luxurious Rest.

A Parisian bed of silver and wood built for an Indian prince was ornamented at each corner by a large female figure holding a fan. The weight of the prince's body set mechanism in motion, which caused the fans to oscillate.
